Foreword

It is with deep concern that we present the Bangladesh Workplace Death Report, 2023, which marks the 12th publication in a series aimed at bringing to light the grim reality of workplace accidents and deaths in Bangladesh. Despite the basic human right to a safe workplace, workers in Bangladesh continue to suffer from unsafe working conditions, leading to a rising number of deaths and injuries. In the past years, we have witnessed a significant number of workplace deaths, with many of them being preventable. These incidents have not only resulted in the loss of lives but have also caused immeasurable grief and trauma to the affected families and coworkers.

The year 2023 was the shock recovering year of the COVID-19 pandemic. All the factories and establishments started their interventions/journey again with full swing where care about health and safety of workers were less important than growth or development. Thus, the number of deaths reported due to workplace accidents has increased, signaling a serious issue that requires immediate attention.

As per the Bangladesh Labour Act- 2006 and subsequent rules- 2015, it is mandatory for establishment authorities to keep records of all accidents, minor or major. However, such records are rarely found. Therefore, this report, based on monitoring 15 national and 11 regional newspapers by SRS, is intended to provide an authentic picture of workplace accidents and deaths to stakeholders and actors. We hope that this report will serve as a valuable source of information for future researchers, policy makers, and activists working to reduce workplace accidents and fatalities.

Workplace safety is a shared responsibility, and every employer and employee has a role to play in creating a safe and healthy work environment. It's essential to prioritize safety measures and implement appropriate safety protocols to reduce the risk of workplace accidents.

We are grateful to Diakonia, a Sweden-based development organization, for their continuous support since 2012 in promoting workplace safety and protecting workers' rights in Bangladesh. Without their support, it would not have been possible for SRS to publish this series of reports for years.

We sincerely hope that regulatory authorities and agencies responsible for enforcing the Act, Rules, and Policies on labor, as well as media and other organizations working to improve workplace health and safety conditions in Bangladesh, will find this report useful. We acknowledge that many accidents are still beyond our reach and plan to extend our monitoring system to online-based news and views to cover more. We welcome any comments or suggestions for further improvement of this report and extend our heartfelt thanks to all who have supported our efforts in ensuring workplace safety in Bangladesh.

About Safety and Rights Society

The Safety and Rights Society (SRS) is a local not-for-profit organization registered under the Societies Registration Act 1860 and the Foreign Donation (Voluntary Activities) Regulation Ordinance 1978 with the NGO Affairs Bureau of Bangladesh. SRS is dedicated to improving workplace conditions and promoting consumer and public safety in Bangladesh.

The organization aims to ensure that the overall conditions faced by people at work are decent and are at the very least in compliance with the law.

Workplace Safety, Compensation and Accountability

The larger goal of SRS is to advance labor rights in Bangladesh, and one of its primary programmatic focuses is Workplace Safety Compensation and Accountability (WSCA). As of 2012, Diakonia Bangladesh, SRS's development partner, has been funding this program.

The WSCA seeks to enhance the working environment's health and safety conditions and to ensure that dependent families and injured workers receive just compensation in accordance with the law when they are affected by workplace accidents. Its emphasis is primarily on individuals working in the industrial and service sectors of the nation.

It works to improve conditions by:

- undertaking research to obtain a better understanding of the occupational health and safety situation in Bangladesh, including the numbers and circumstances of deaths and injuries and the necessary changes in workplace practices;
- promoting the reform of health and safety legislation in Bangladesh so that it offers appropriate protection to workers;
- providing training on workplace health and safety and other labour rights issues to the construction, garment, leather-tannery and stone crushing workers and mid-level management;
- assessing the activities of the Department of Inspection for Factories and Establishments and other regulatory bodies with the aim of seeking improvements in how they seek compliance with, and enforcement of the law;
- providing information and guidance to employers so that they understand their health and safety obligations and the steps they need to take to fulfill them;
- offering health and safety management training to employers;
- assisting trade unions in raising health and safety concerns with employers and enforcement bodies;
- filing strategic public interest litigation in the High Court of Bangladesh with the aim of ensuring that state bodies comply with their constitutional and legal requirements to provide workers with safe and healthy conditions at work;
- working to ensure the effectiveness of National Industrial Health and Safety Council and the implementation of National Occupational Health and Safety Policy;

- working to ensure gender equality and to reduce violence and harassment in the world of work;
- working to ensure the effectiveness of labour welfare fund.

It assists dependent families and injured workers gain compensation by:

- monitoring national and regional newspapers for reports of workplace deaths;
- investigating the circumstances of workplace deaths & injuries and contacting dependents & injured workers to determine whether they need assistance for realizing compensation;
- obtaining information about workplace injuries through research at hospitals;
- informing employers of their obligation to pay compensation in relation to specific deaths and injuries and filing cases in the Labour Court where necessary (together with BLAST)

It works for protecting the rights of GIG workers through establishing Young Workers Forum (YWF) by:

- organizing gig workers under a common platform called Young Workers Forum (YWF);
- conducting awareness campaigns to highlight the absence of occupational health and safety measures for gig workers and to inform them of their rights and entitlements;
- networking with organizations that serve youths;
- equipping young people with resources and training to foster entrepreneurship qualities;
- connecting young girls and boys with various opportunities that they can utilize in their profession;
- advocating for menstrual hygiene, personal hygiene, and healthy food habits among young working women.

Workplace Death Analysis of 2023

1. Background

A workplace accident is an unexpected event that occurs in a work environment, resulting in the injury or death of an employee. Workplace accidents occur in any industry, including construction, manufacturing, services, agriculture and transportation.

There are several causes of workplace accidents, which can include road accident; explosion; electrocuted; lightning; falls from the floor or above; hit by hard or heavy objects; drowned in water; burned by fire; being exposed to poisonous gas and collapse of hills, soil, bridges, buildings or roofs, walls.

One of the regular tasks that SRS has been truly carrying out since its beginning is keeping a record of workplace accidents that result in death and injury and publishing the report. In order for the public to understand the actual working conditions and advocate for a safe and decent workplace, one of the goals of this study is to gather the data in one location and make it available to them.

2. Methodology

This study examines workplace fatalities that occurred in Bangladesh in 2023 in the manufacturing, construction, service, agriculture, and transport sectors. It also analyzes the events by industry, cause, age and gender of the deceased, and location of the incident.

By keeping an eye on 11 regional newspapers¹ from Barisal, Chattogram, Khulna, Rajshahi, and Sylhet as well as 15 national newspapers², information concerning the deaths was discovered.

2.1 Kinds of deaths monitored

This report focuses on the deaths of workers at the workplace, arising out of issues relating to occupational safety and health and concerned with the management of the work, including details of transport workers (drivers or conductors and helpers working in vehicles) who have died in the course of their work. However, the report does not include deaths of workers travelling to or from work by using public vehicles as these deaths primarily raise issues of road traffic safety rather than occupational health and safety. But any work related travel by using an official vehicle is included.

The report also does not include deaths of workers as a result of police, or other kinds of violence or in incidents outside of the workplace – as none of these relate to occupational health and safety issues.

This report focuses on industrial and service sector deaths – but it does include details of certain agricultural deaths (where the newspaper reports clearly indicate a workplace safety issue). Very few agricultural sector deaths are reported in the newspapers and those are reported mainly died from lightning stroke.

Deaths at sea is another phenomenon where in most of the cases the newspaper publishes only the list of missing fisher folks – which makes it very difficult to know whether the incidents have anything to do with the management of health and safety issues. In addition, further press reports often fail to indicate the final conditions of the workers.

2.2 Accuracy of the Information

The accuracy of information regarding workplace deaths can vary depending on a variety of factors, such as the source of the information, the type of incident, and the thoroughness of the investigation. The prime source of this information is from monitoring deaths that are reported in national and some regional newspapers. Relying on this data creates two problems. The first problem is that newspaper reports almost certainly do not reflect, by a high margin, the actual number of workplace deaths that have taken place.

The second problem concerns the accuracy of the newspaper reports themselves. Interestingly, that in the great majority of the cases, the key information contained in the papers was accurate. Though, it was usual for there to be some small errors in the spelling of the names of the deceased, the incident address and the circumstances of the death. It is rarely found that those deaths were not work-related or the location of the death could not be identified.

3. Analysis of workplace deaths in 2023

An analysis of workplace deaths is given by the following issues-

- The number of deaths and the number of separate incidents that resulted in the deaths;
- The district where the death took place;
- The sector in which the death took place;
- The sub-sector in which the death took place;
- The month of the year when the death took place;
- Age distribution of the workers who died;
- The gender dimension; and
- The causes of deaths.

3.1 Workplace deaths by year

The provided bar chart illustrates the number of deaths over a span of 10 years. Each year, the death rate has shown an upward trend. In 2023, the number of deaths reached 875, compared to 712 in the previous year. From 2014 to 2023, the total stands at 5235. However, it is essential to recognize that these figures likely underestimate the true numbers. Many workplace deaths may go unreported in newspapers, contributing to this discrepancy.

3.2 Workplace deaths in different Districts

The given table presents information on workplace deaths in various districts in the year 2023. According to the data, there were a total of 716 incidents resulting in 875 deaths nationwide. The highest number of fatalities occurred in Dhaka, with 132 deaths (15.09%) resulting from 91 incidents. Chattogram followed as the second-highest with 68 deaths (7.77%) from 54 incidents, Gazipur with 55 (6.29%) fatalities from 32 incidents, and Narayanganj with 39 deaths (4.46%) from 25 incidents.

It's crucial to note that a majority of the districts (63 districts) experienced at least one accident resulting in one or more worker deaths, indicating the widespread nature of workplace accidents in the country. This emphasizes the urgency for improved workplace safety measures and better enforcement of existing regulations to prevent such incidents in the future.

Table 1: District-wise workplace accidents and deaths in 2023

3.3 Workplace deaths in different industrial areas of Bangladesh

The provided horizontal bar chart illustrates the frequency of industrial accidents across various regions, with a particular emphasis on those regions witnessing the highest fatality rates. According to the data, Dhaka, Chattogram, Gazipur, Narayanganj, Mymensingh, Bogura, Pabna, Dinajpur, Tangail, and Sirajganj stand out as the region's most susceptible to industrial accidents, collectively contributing to over 48.60% of the total fatalities.

The chart vividly depicts Dhaka as the epicenter of industrial accidents, closely trailed by Chattogram and Gazipur. Following suit, Narayanganj, Mymensingh, Bogura, Pabna, Dinajpur, Tangail, and Sirajganj also register notable occurrences of industrial mishaps.

This visualization not only highlights the prevalence of industrial accidents but also underscores the urgent need for heightened safety measures and regulatory enforcement across these regions to mitigate future tragedies.

3.4 Deaths in different working sectors

The presented bar chart delineates the distribution of workplace fatalities across various sectors in Bangladesh. Notably, the transport sector stands out with the highest number of deaths, totaling 340, representing 38.86% of the total fatalities. Following closely is the service sector, accounting for 185 deaths (21.14%), trailed by the construction sector with 174 fatalities (19.89%). The manufacturing sector witnessed 96 deaths (10.97%), while the agriculture sector reported 80 fatalities (9.14%).

The visual depiction of the data underscores the gravity of workplace fatalities, with the transport sector posing the most significant risk. This insight underscores the importance of targeted interventions and enhancements to mitigate workplace hazards, particularly in high-risk sectors like transportation, as well as other sectors experiencing notable fatality rates.

This comprehensive analysis not only elucidates the severity of workplace safety issues but also provides a strategic roadmap for implementing preventive measures and fostering a safer work environment across diverse sectors.

3.4.1 Deaths in Manufacturing Sector

The provided table offers information on the distribution of workplace deaths within the manufacturing sector in Bangladesh, highlighting the industries with the highest number of fatalities. The table indicates that Garments, Steel Mills, Brick fields, Chemical Factories, Garments, Rice Mills, Cotton Mills, oxygen factories and Ship Breaking/Building were also associated with significant numbers of deaths. This information could be used to identify the most dangerous industries within the manufacturing sector and to target interventions and improvements to reduce the number of workplace deaths in these sectors.

3.4.2 Deaths in Construction Sector

The provided table displays information on workplace fatalities in the construction sector in Bangladesh, with a particular focus on the number of deaths associated with different types of construction projects. According to the table, Building Construction was associated with the highest number of deaths, with 104 fatalities. Conversely, Road construction, Bridge/Flyover projects, Drain/Brick Crusher operations exhibit comparatively lower fatality rates.

SL	Construction Sub-sectors	# of Incidents	# of Deaths

3.4.3 Deaths in Transport

The table highlights the vulnerability of Bangladesh's transport sector, particularly emphasizing the vehicle types associated with the highest fatality rates. It reveals that a notable 150 fatalities resulted from accidents involving various vehicles, including ambulances, auto rickshaws, easy and auto bikes, nasimons, auto vans, three-wheelers, and rickshaws. Following this, the data indicates that 82 deaths occurred in accidents involving tractors, jeeps, lorries, trucks, and covered vans. Lastly, the text notes that 57 deaths were reported in accidents involving legunas, power tillers, votvotis, tomtoms, brick machines, pickup vans, and other vehicle types. It's pertinent to mention that these figures exclusively pertain to workers, encompassing drivers, conductors, and helpers within the transport sector.

3.4.4 Deaths in Service

The provided table presents information on workplace fatalities in the service sector in Bangladesh, with a particular focus on the number of deaths associated with different types of service providers. According to the table, a significant number of deaths occurred among day laborers with 86 fatalities resulting from 67 incidents.

In addition to day laborers, the table also highlights the risk of fatal accidents for electricians or those involved in electric supply or Polly Biddyt works, with 47 deaths. While this group had a lower number of fatalities compared to day laborers, the data suggest that this type of work may be particularly hazardous and may require additional safety measures to reduce the risk of accidents.

Overall, the table provides a clear and concise overview of workplace fatalities in the service sector in Bangladesh, highlighting the importance of targeted interventions to reduce the number of deaths among day laborers and other service providers. The data could be used to inform the development of safety programs and policies aimed at reducing workplace fatalities and improving safety outcomes in the service sector.
